Former Pittsburgh Steelers... Wes Lyons Teaches Students the Power of Perseverance!

Wes Lyons is a professional motivational speaker who focuses on speaking to students using conversational candor that kids can relate to.

Wes attended Woodland Hills High School, where he earned academic and athletic honors, and excelled at football during those years. After graduating, he received scholarship offers from many colleges, and decided to attend West Virginia University. There he continued his education and became a valuable member of their football team. He graduated a semester early with a business degree, and pursued his interest in football on a professional level. His passion and hard work paid off, he was picked up by the New York Jets for their off-season, and eventually signed to play with the Pittsburgh Steelers. Wes is a new author, and focuses on speaking to students while being a role model. With conversational candor that audiences embrace and enjoy, Wes tells stories of his childhood in Pittsburgh, and challenges from behind-the-scenes of the college recruitment process, and delves deep into the world of football - a world that created a professional athlete and an inspirational voice.

What Students and Faculty Can Expect...

Wes focuses his presentation on 3 Key Steps for Success as well as 5 Steps for Making Good Decisions. Students walk away with basic tools that they can apply to everyday life and are energized to be their best!
